

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS MARCH 15

Trinity College Manager Completes Schedule of Twenty-Eight Games.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Durham, N. C., February 8.—Every-thing now points to a strong nine for Trinity. Coach Atkins, of the Baltimore Orioles, is now on the ground and has already begun a systematic order of practice. For the next few weeks he will pay special attention to the pitching staff. The other players, however, are taking advantage of every pretty day, and may be seen on the field early and late, working with a vim that must ultimately mean a glorious season for Trinity.

Manager Hanes has finally completed his schedule of games for the season. The schedule shows an aggregate number of twenty-eight games, sixteen of which are to be played on the home diamond.

One noticeable feature of the season will be the visit of Swarthmore. This college has had exceptionally strong teams in the past, and its coming to Durham marks its initial trip through the South. For four years the Virginia Polytechnic Institute has not played any baseball within this State, and the visit of the Virginia boys is anticipated with keen interest. A fine aggregation of baseball artists will be found in the team which comes from Hamilton College, New York City. This team is also making its first trip through the Southern States.

But the fact that Manager Hanes has been able to arrange five games with Wake Forest, and the further fact that one of these is to be played in Durham on Easter Monday, arouses the intense interest, not only of Durham and the student bodies of both college communities, but of neighboring towns as well. There could not exist a better rivalry in Durham than that between the two teams. The fact that the team which comes from Hamilton College, New York City, is also making its first trip through the Southern States.

The team, as will be noted from the schedule printed below, leaves for its Southern trip on April 15, and will be gone for ten days, returning in time to play Hamilton College on April 22. The games arranged for the Southern trip are with some of the best teams of the South. It had been hoped that an arrangement might be made whereby Clemson and Trinity would meet in Charlotte, but this plan was found impossible. Only a day or so ago the Virginia Polytechnic Institute wired that they would be unable to meet Trinity for three games, as had been arranged. Manager Hanes, however, met the embarrassment, and other games were booked.

The full schedule of Trinity is:

March 15—Trinity Park, at Durham.

PLAYERS SIGNED BY NEW MANAGER

Stockdale Arrives to Take Charge of Lynchburg 1911 Team.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Lynchburg, Va., February 8.—Manager Otis H. Stockdale, accompanied by his wife and three children, reached the city last night from Birmingham, and from now on he will direct the shaping up of the 1911 Shoemakers from Lynchburg. Stockdale's first work to-day was a house hunt, for he wants to locate as quickly as possible, and then give his attention to the team. Quite a number of players have been signed already for the team. Shaw, the manager is going slow about the matter, for he does not want to stend and bring men here who do not have a ghost of a show to make the team. He is in correspondence with a number of prospects, and if they can produce the testimonials they claim can be forthcoming, they will be signed. Among the contracts given out to-day, which have not been printed heretofore, are the following:

E. N. Shaw, an outfielder, of Jambson, Ala., personally known to the manager, who has been with him for some time, and as a pitcher, Shaw reported some time ago as an infielder, but this was incorrect. He is expected to show the goods when he gets in shape, and he ought to come here in good condition for work.

Another good prospect is in Goodfellow, a catcher, who hails from Covington, Ky. Goodfellow has had several years' experience at semi-professional work, and last year he was regarded as one of the best receivers in the Cincinnati City League. Manager Stockdale expects him to make a good man to help him out behind the bat.

F. Hill, a college and semi-professional moundman, who hails from the city of Birmingham, is another one of the new acquisitions. Hill, who knows this player personally and thinks he has sufficient experience and ability to make him a very desirable man for the Shoemakers' pitching staff.

Boucher, a third baseman from Cincinnati, another Cincinnati City Leaguer, will be brought here for trial at third base. This man was signed after much investigation, and he gives promise of being a good man.

J. R. Bollinger is a pitcher from Chambersburg, Pa. His recommendation is good, though Manager Stockdale knows nothing of him personally.

Within the next few days the manager expects to give the fans a line on several other players, though there will probably be nothing more for a day or two.

Manager Stockdale, who is known over the Southern Association circuit as "The Old Gray Fox," has had a long and successful career as a baseball player. In addition to playing for nearly twenty years as a pitcher, he has for a number of years been very successful in the coaching of college teams, an experience which is going to stand him well in hand now in the managing of the Shoemakers.

The question of retaining the old men has not been gone into yet, but this will be taken up during the next week, and when it is decided who will be retained some releases are to be expected. Five or six of the old men will be sold within the next ten days, and there may be two or three releases.

Lula will certainly be retained to catch, and success will be for first while Brooks and Griffin are expected to add the manager in the box work. The only other old man likely to be called back will be Howard, who is by no means certain that he will be.

The status of the old men will be settled now mightily quick, for the national agreement provides that all who have not had contracts submitted to them before March 1 become free agents.

RHEUMATISM PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superficial effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uratic impurity. When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

TRACK MUDDY, TEAM RESTING

Hagaman Talks to College Squad and Tells Some Inside Things About Meet.

Nothing definite has been heard as yet from the authorities of Johns Hopkins University as to the proposal made by Richmond for entrance in the indoor track meet to be held Saturday night. Manager Corley, of the local school's squad, sent a telegram yesterday, but up to this writing has received no reply. The local relay team is anxious to get a chance against the Maryland Aggies, and unless the outdoor meet scheduled for this spring is held, the Baltimore event will furnish the only opportunity.

The track was entirely too slow yesterday and too full of mud for Coach Hagaman to send his men against them. Instead he correlated them in the gymnasium and gave them a talking which should help them in their future meets. A lot of inside information which only experience can bring was dishied out by Hagaman.

Glad to Have Taylor.

Few persons outside of college life can realize what it meant to have Captain Taylor return. He, more than any one at college, realizes the possibilities of the track team, and he can instill life and hope into the men when every other source fails. Not only that, but Taylor is a good man. He has the proper spirit, never knows when he is beaten, and everybody at the school likes him.

Merrell is showing every one. He is showing marked form in the sprints, and as a member of the relay team is sure to give the man following him a good lead. Altogether, prospects are bright for the spring meet. A meeting of the executive committee of the Athletic Association will be held Thursday night, after which definite arrangements will be announced.

LIMIT IS REACHED FOR APPLICATIONS

No More Considered in This Office, But All Interested Are Invited to Attend Meeting of Richmond Amateur Baseball League Saturday Night.

No more applications for membership in the Richmond Amateur Baseball League will be considered by the sporting editor of this paper. Wednesday was set as the final limit for more reasons than one. It is impossible, even under the best conditions, to take care of all of the letters thus far received and to answer each one separately.

Because of this fact, an invitation is hereby extended to every man in the city of Richmond who is interested in the amateur athlete to be present at a meeting to be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the business offices of The Times-Dispatch, 916 East Main Street, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization.

Selection of a president will be the first business to come before the meeting. As previously stated, several names have been mentioned as possibilities. While it is not within the province of the sporting editor of this paper to espouse the cause of any man, he feels that he is entitled to impress upon those who will attend the meeting that it is essential to select a president right now upon this question. Turn over in your minds the names of the men whom you think will be able to do most for the welfare of the league, and who can exert the greatest amount of influence in furthering the purposes for which it is to be organized.

Secretary's Job Important.

Another important position to be filled is that of secretary. The league will require an efficient man for this job, one who will give his time and attention to the affairs of the league.

Each member should come prepared to name some man who, in his judgment, would be best fitted for the position. The league should be organized seriously, just as seriously as the owners of the several clubs in the Virginia League take their organization. If any information is wanted as to what may be accomplished by an amateur league write to the president of the Departmental League in Washington.

The Washington organization every year furnishes a score of men to professional baseball. But above that, the league in the capital city of the United States has been in existence for years and years, and is more firmly entrenched in the goodwill of the people of that town. A lesson can be learned from that organization. While it is essential that each team start out with the idea of winning the pennant in the race, still it must be remembered that every team must be in first place. The team that will quit just because it happens to be losing a few games is composed of men who are sports in no sense of the word. Some one has written that he wanted to be a winner, but if he couldn't be the winner the next best thing was to be a good loser.

Good Losers Wanted.

Learn to be a good and graceful loser and you have learned the lesson in sportsmanship. No quitters are wanted in the Richmond Amateur Baseball League. We want men who have spines; not people who are built on the jelly-fish plan of architecture. Things will be presented to the meeting.

Remember that whoever and wherever you are, whether you have received a letter or not, you are invited to the meeting Saturday night. If you are interested in amateur baseball, the time is 8 o'clock; the place, 916 East Main Street, and the purpose, the organization of a permanent, city of Richmond baseball league in the good cause.

SHAFTS FROM SPORTLAND

By GUS MALBERT.

Now that the pesky question of how the official score will be printed this season has been settled to the satisfaction of all concerned, let's take a long breath and prepare for the day of days.

According to the office statisticians it is now just a matter of time, and in a few hours, forty-one minutes and eleven seconds, before the man behind the bat says "play ball."

Each paper in Richmond will print the official score, and will have the privilege of so doing. That's fair and suits you truly down to the ground.

It may be that the man holding the job in this office won't want to print the official score, but the fact that one paper was to have that privilege each day of the season would have the same privilege.

With pleasure he announces that both Owner Bradley and the man who will in all probability get the job agree with him. So do the other men interested.

Charles Whitaker, a pitcher, for whom Monte Cross has been making a bid, has been called by the owner, James Sullivan. He is another "hope," and has all of the other recommendations.

To me it is awfully funny to hear a man who ought to know better state that an outlaw league is a league composed only of men who are contract jumpers, or who have refused to play in organized baseball. For the benefit of those who don't know better, let me state emphatically that an outlaw baseball league is any professional baseball league doing business in any territory protected under the national commission, and any ball player taking part in such league is outlawed by doing so. In other words, any professional league not protected by the national commission is an outlaw league, and that's all, and it is so simple that all should know it.

But watch the amateur league of Richmond. Some classy baseball when that is organized.

Owner Bradley will find it impossible to attend the meeting, but he has a bid. He stated that he should have been glad to have been on hand, but previous engagements prevent.

Dr. W. F. Bagby, manager of the College team, has been called by the owner, and give his advice, though he can't promise that his team will be affiliated with the organization.

Remember that if you are interested you are invited to attend.

PLAN TOURNAMENT OF BILLIARDISTS

Definite Announcement of Plans and Entrants Will Be Made After Success Is Assured.

Plans are now under way by which a billiard tournament will be held in Richmond. If the suggestions made by those interested are carried out the tournament will engage the best men at the game in Richmond.

Billiards is exceedingly popular among a large number of men locally, but every attempt to get them together in match games has so far proven futile. However, it is now thought that the pending arrangements will be pleasing to all concerned, and that a number of entrants can be secured.

One of the greatest drawbacks to the present time has been getting enough men of equal ability at the game. All efforts along such lines have been spent in vain. It has been determined to make the event a handicap affair. It matters little, under the circumstances, who the players are, for the public is sure to get a good exhibition.

Definite announcement of the conditions under which the tournament will be played are being delayed until an absolute and positive information can be given the public. In view of the fact that so many attempts have been made to pull off a billiard tournament without success, the promoters are unwilling to allow their names to be published until success is assured.
